

CELEBRATING SEALIFE

Bellingham SeaFeast is an annual two-day festival on the third weekend of September at Squalicum Harbor and Zuanich Point Park. It celebrates the rich maritime culture and heritage, thriving working waterfront (including a water rescue demonstration pictured below), in addition to the enjoyment and conservation of the water resources, seafood industries, and the culinary bounty of the Pacific Northwest. SeaFeast is a non-profit event supported by both public and private entities throughout Whatcom County and the Pacific Northwest.
